

ANGEL TAROT

TRAVIS MCHENRY

INTRODUCTION

According to the secret doctrine of Cornelius Agrippa, every mortal born on earth has three guardian angels. Agrippa's occult philosophy is rooted in the sacred Kabbalah, or secret tradition of Israel, which postulates that the powers of the 72 angels of the Shem HaMephorash are distributed throughout the times, days and seasons. It is from this source that we obtain knowledge of their names, attributes and mysteries.

Your first angelic guide is of divine rank and order. It is commissioned by the command of God, and the charge of the soul is given to this angel at the time of the soul's creation. This angel is the rector and governor of life, imparting divine light and helping lift up the soul toward a higher spiritual existence. The first angel operates within the confines of the 24 hours of the day.

Your second angelic guide emanates from the astrological world, from the power of the stars. It will lead mortals along the path of virtue, and its influence is on the qualities of the moral order and the things that pass into expression in speech. The second angel operates within specific days of the months of the year.

Your third angelic guide emanates from the physical world. It governs the physical aspect of a mortal's existence on earth and influences health, motions and actions. The third angel operates in successive periods of days throughout the year.

These names must not be thought of in a limited or personal sense. It so happens that the angelical offices are interchangeable: an angel who governs the physical part of one particular child may also be a leader into the light of the soul belonging to another, while he also presides over the moral qualities and dispositions of a third. It is written in the Book of Hebrews: 'All angels are ministering spirits sent to serve those who will inherit salvation.' And in the Book of Luke: 'He will command his angels concerning you to guard you in all your ways.'

THE HIERARCHY OF ANGELS

SERAPHIM

The highest rank of angels, the choir of seraphim are six-winged beings that fly around the throne of God.

ISAIAH 6: 1-3

I saw the Lord sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up, and his train filled the temple. Above it stood the seraphims: each one had six wings; with twain he covered his face, and with twain he covered his feet, and with twain he did fly. And one cried unto another, and said, 'Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord of hosts: the whole earth is full of his glory.'

CHERUBIM

The cherubs guard the Garden of Eden and escort the throne of God.

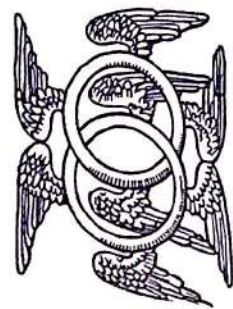

EZIEKIEL 1: 5-6

Out of the midst there came the likeness of four living creatures. And this was their appearance; they had the likeness of a man. And every one had four faces, and every one had four wings.

THRONES

The thrones are great wheels covered in eyes that deliver divine justice and hold up God and remain forever in His presence.

DANIEL 7: 9

I beheld till the thrones were cast down, and the Ancient of days did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like the pure wool: his throne was like the fiery flame, and his wheels as burning fire.

DOMINIONS

The dominions appear as humans of perfect beauty with wings, and are responsible for regulating the duties of the lower ranks of angels.

EPHESIANS 1: 20-21

He raised Christ from the dead and seated him at his right hand in the heavenly realms, far above all rule and authority, power and dominion, and every name that is invoked, not only in the present age but also in the one to come.

VIRTUES

Angels from the choir of virtues are responsible for making miracles occur upon the earth. They possess an unshakeable energy welling forth from their god-like abilities.

POWERS

The powers ensure the cosmos remains in order. They are warrior angels, prepared to destroy evil spirits or cast them down to prisons.

COLOSSIANS 1: 16

For by him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thrones, or dominions, or principalities, or powers: all things were created by him.

PRINCIPALITIES

The angels of the principalities guide and protect nations, races and institutions. They are educators and guardians of the realm of mortals.

EPHESIANS 3: 9-10

The fellowship of the mystery, which from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God, who created all things by Jesus Christ: To the intent that now the principalities and powers in heavenly places might be known by the church the manifold wisdom of God.

ARCHANGELS

Archangels are the chief leaders of the angels that appear among mortals. Their power is great and they serve God directly.

1 THESSALONIANS 4: 16

For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God.

ANGELS

Angels are the messengers of divine light who descend from the heavens to minister to mortals. They have diverse powers and roles, and some are given specific tasks. They are capable of performing great miracles and unleashing tremendous destruction.

MATTHEW 28

And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven. His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow: And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men. The angel said unto the women: Fear not, for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

CONJURATION OF THE ANGELIC SPIRITS

To conjure any of the 72 angels of the Shem HaMephorash, the archangels of the zodiac or other archangels of the heavens, follow these steps.

The seal of the angel should be traced in red ink on virgin parchment. The ink should be Chinese red, with a touch of vermillion.

Above the seal, write the name of the angel in Malachim characters; that is, the writing of the angels.

Around the seal and the name, draw a double circle in black ink.

Within the double circle, write the angel's corresponding verse from the Psalms in either Hebrew or Latin.

If written in Latin, the verse should come from the Vulgate but correspond with the Hebrew text.

Alternatively, you may also trace the Pentacles of Tosgraec for assistance in conjuring any angel.

If the conjurer has any fear or doubt in the back of their mind about the spirit which is to be summoned the Grand Pentacle of Solomon should be displayed in some manner, either worn as a lamen or traced and placed somewhere within the magic circle in which the conjuring is to occur.

After these seals and pentacles have been created, recite the evocation to summon the angelic spirits. These words should be spoken slowly and with great reverence and respect for the angelic spirit that is to be conjured.

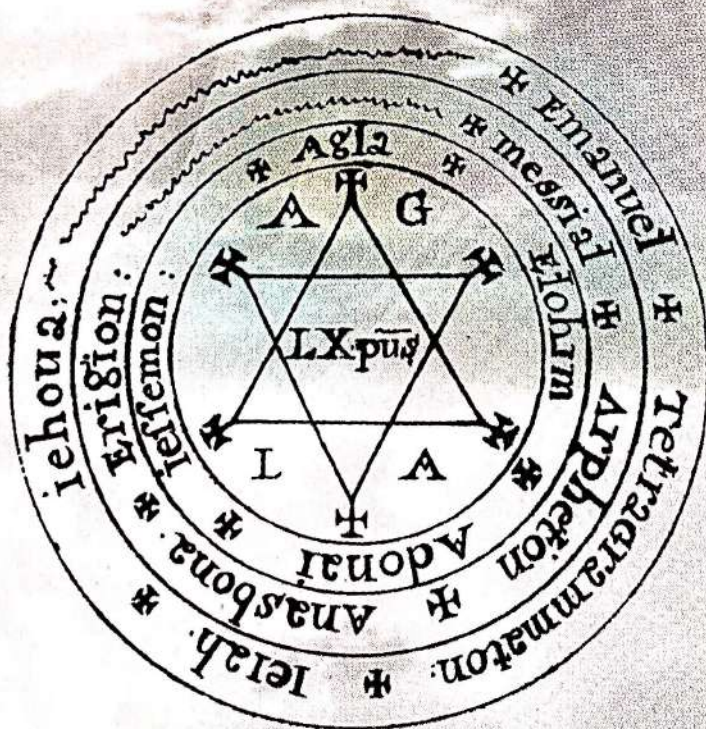

THE GRAND PENTACLE OF SOLOMON

This pentacle serves to reconcile the benevolence of good spirits, and to granulise and destroy our fear so that we will be able to protect ourselves from the fury that may occur with their arrival.

When the spirits gaze upon the beauty of this pentacle, it is so great that it restrains the spirits and compels them to appear under forms that will not cause fear or trembling.

SUMMONING AND RELEASING ANGELIC SPIRITS

The following two evocations are to be used prior to and directly after you use The Angel-evoking Tarot deck. These summoning and releasing incantations from the very beginning of our history are ancient and powerful, so are a potent way to signal your intentions when engaging with the angelic realms.

EVOCATION TO SUMMON THE ANGELIC SPIRITS

I conjure thee in the name of the twenty-four elders, in the name of the nine choirs to which you belong, O angel!

I conjure thee in the name of angels, archangels, thrones, dominations, principles, powers, virtues, cherubim and seraphim!

In the name of the four mysterious powers that carry the throne of the most high, and who have eyes before and behind; in the name of all that contribute to our salvation!

I conjure thee, Spirit of Light, in the name of the true God, the God of life! In the name of the seven mysterious candlesticks in the right hand of God! In the name of the seven churches of Asia! In the name of Ephesus, Smyrna, Pergamum, Thyatira, Sardis, Philadelphia and Laodicea.

I conjure thee by heaven and earth, by sun and moon, by day and night; by all that exists and all the virtues therein encompassed; by the four primordial elements; by all which may be said or thought by the sovereign creator, through His supreme will and the celestial hour in which He reigns; through Him who has produced all from nothing; through the glorious phalanxes to which you belong; through the saints, through all those who, night and day, endlessly cry:

'Holy, holy, holy, Lord God of hosts. Heaven and earth are full of Thy glory. Glory be to thee, O Lord most high.'

I conjure thee, illuminating intelligence, messenger of light!

I conjure thee in the name of Uriel, guardian of the north!

I conjure thee in the name of Raphael, guardian of the south!

I conjure thee in the name of Michael, guardian of the east!

I conjure thee in the name of Gabriel, guardian of the west!

I conjure thee, o divine messenger, by the seven golden candlesticks which burn before the altar of God; by the company of the blessed who follow the footsteps of the immaculate lamb!

I conjure thee, o celestial angel, in the name of all the saints whom God has chosen from and before the creation of the world, because of their merits which are agreeable to God!

I conjure thee, o invisible yet immanent power, and I conjure thee through the redoubtable power of the Lord's name; through the glory of this divine name, manifested in the world, where the most beautiful attributes of God find expression.

I conjure and implore thee, o angel in the name of these attributes! May you quit the celestial abode at the call of their syllables!

May you deign, o illuminating power, when they are invoked, to descend to this place, there to instruct thine unworthy servant.

I conjure thee in the name of Adonai Melech, master of the realm of form!

I conjure thee in the name of Shaddai, mirror of truth! I conjure thee in the name of Hod, lord and master of the divine words!

I conjure thee in the name of Netzach, sovereign essence of beauty!

I conjure thee in the name of Tiphereth, principle of the realm of glory! I conjure thee in the name of Geburah, principle of infinite justice! I conjure thee in the name of Chesed, divine mercy! I conjure thee in the name of Binah, uncreated wisdom! I conjure thee in the name of Kether, the horizon of eternity! I conjure thee, o celestial teacher, in the name of the Tetragrammaton! I conjure thee in the name of Eheieh! I conjure thee in the name of Elohim! I conjure thee in the name of Eloah!

May it be thus in the blessed name of the lord.

I implore thee, o celestial angel, in memory of the seven-coloured rainbow that appeared in the skies, so showing the covenant between God and Noah the patriarch!

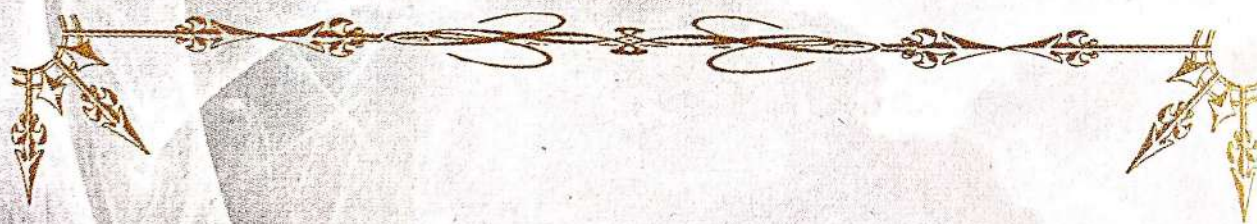

I conjure thee in memory of the luminous cloud that surrounded the Ark of the Covenant, so showing the covenant between the eternal one and the sons of Abraham.

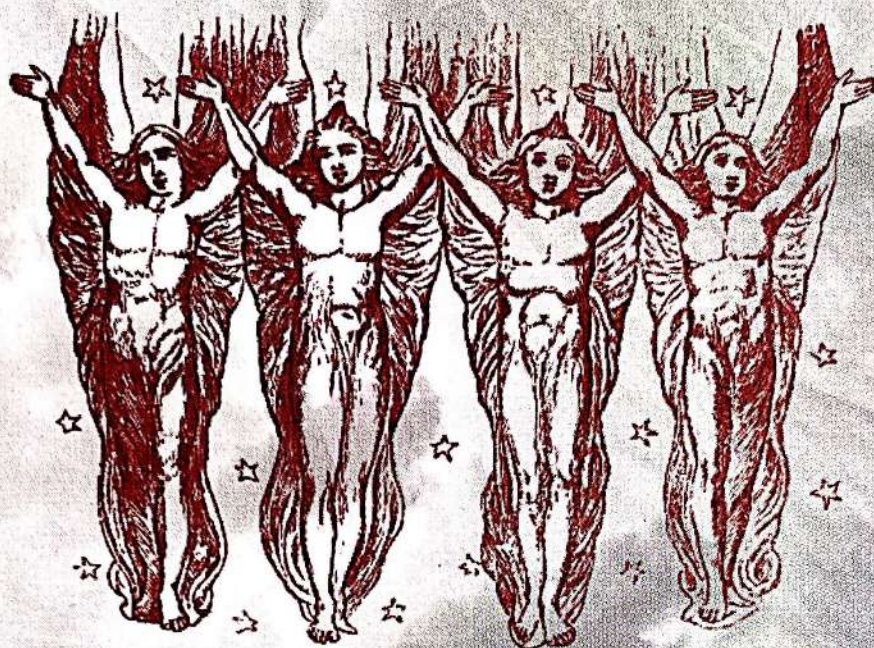

I conjure thee, celestial powers, in memory of the signs that Thou had appear in the skies, shortly before the destruction of the temple!

I conjure thee, o spirits of light and truth, in memory of the signs that accompanied the birth of the saviour; in memory of the hallelujahs in the valleys of Bethlehem; in memory of Thy message to the shepherds; in memory of the blazing star that guided the magis!

May Thy sign be to me the symbol of protection that thou grants to this divine ritual! I implore thee, o celestial angel, in memory of the signs that thou transmitted to the apostles!

Descend, o spirit of light, to show Thy agreement and Thine aid!

LICENCE TO DEPART

In the name of ADONAI, the eternal and everlasting one, let each of you return to their place among the heavens; let there be peace between us, and be ready to come when you are called again.

USING THE ANGEL-EVOKING TAROT

There are three ways to utilise The Angel-evoking Tarot: evocation, meditation and divination.

EVOCATION

Begin by thinking of a request you wish to make of the angelic spirits, then select the card of the angel you wish to invoke. Place it on the table, altar or ground in front of you.

Prepare your space by lighting incense or using any cleansing rituals you would normally perform. Light two, four or six candles and place them around the angel's card.

Read aloud the evocation to summon the angelic spirits (as originally found in the Angenomicon and reprinted for you on page 12). Don't rush; read it slowly and purposefully. After reading the evocation, make a specific request to the angel. It can be healing, money, love or protection or anything else that particular angel may be suited to deliver.

After making your request sit in quiet meditation, alternately gazing upon the angel's card and the flames of the candles and then sitting with your eyes closed. This may last as long as you feel is necessary to properly communicate your intention to the angel.

When you are ready to finish the evocation, read the licence to depart aloud then blow out the candles. Your request should be granted within a few days to a few weeks.

MEDITATION

If you wish to have a particular angel's presence around you but do not wish to undertake the full evocation ritual, you may select that angel's card and place it on the table or floor in front of you. Light two, four or six candles and silently meditate on the angel's nature and abilities. You may also ask it for assistance.

Following your meditation, place the angel's card on your altar, in your pillowcase, beside your bed or anywhere you might see the card regularly. The angel will bring its energy and presence around you so long as your mind dwells upon it.

DIVINATION

The Angel-evoking Tarot is specifically designed to be a divination tool that utilises the spiritual energy of the 72 angels of the Kabbalah. There are three divination techniques suggested here; however, each tarot reader is encouraged to use any technique that suits their particular style of reading. These methods may be used to read for yourself or for someone else.

When reading with this deck your answers may come from the tarot connection, the angel's astrological connection or the angel's ability. In most cases, the angelic spirits will help guide your intuition to figure out which of the three to focus upon. Many times, all three elements work together to synthesise the answer to your question.

ONE-CARD ANSWER

Shuffle and cut the deck three times while silently contemplating the question you wish to have answered. When you have finished shuffling, draw the card on top to find your answer. If you wish to request more information from the angel that has been drawn you can use their card in an evocation or meditation ritual, or you can even use that card as the significator card in a Celtic cross spread.

THREE-CARD ANSWER

A basic three-card spread is done by shuffling and cutting the deck three times while contemplating your question. Draw the top three cards and lay them out in sequential order from left to right.

The first card represents the past or influences that were active but are now fading away.

The second card represents the present or influences that are about to come into play or have just occurred.

The third card represents the future, something that is going to happen, or a representation of the final outcome. It is also the answer to your question.

It is possible that a fourth card may need to be drawn to obtain a more definite answer or to put the past, present and future into better perspective. However, you must resist the temptation to keep drawing cards just to obtain the answer you desire.

CELTIC CROSS DIVINATION AND EVOCATION

When using the Celtic cross spread, evocation of the angels is quite simplified and divination results in receiving answers to a question and also fulfilling a request.

First, select the angel you wish to evoke or question and use its card as the significator. Set it in front of you, then cut and shuffle the deck three times.

Draw the first card and lay it over the significator; this card represents the general energy and theme of the reading.

Draw the second card and lay it across the first; this angel represents the challenges at hand.

Draw the third card and place it above the first; this reveals the outcome of future events and represents the highest possible aim in the situation.

Draw the fourth card and place it below the first; this reveals the energies already surrounding the person in question and the angel that has already descended to give help.

Draw the fifth card and place it to the right of the first; this reveals the past and energies that were present but are now falling away.

Draw the sixth card and place it to the left of the first; this reveals the future and energies that are now coming into being.

Draw the seventh card by itself to the right of the cross of cards; this represents the querent, their state of mind and the energies that surround them.

Draw the eighth card and place it above the seventh; this is the energy surrounding the querent in their home and family situation.

Draw the ninth card and lay it above the eighth; this reveals either the worst or the best that might happen. It is not a sign of what shall be or a sign of what shall come, but of what is possible at the highest or lowest levels. It can also represent a specific fear about the situation.

Draw the tenth and final card and lay it above the ninth; this reveals the ultimate future and answer to the question. If a specific request was made this is the angel that will be delivering the request, and the manner in which it will arrive is specified jointly with the third and sixth cards (those representing the future). Taken all together, these three cards should be viewed as a guide to future events and provide an answer to the question.

The three angels in the third, sixth and tenth positions, under the direction of the angel that was selected as the significator, will be surrounding the querent and are responsible for manifesting future events.

Once you have completed your reading recite the licence to depart on page 15 so that the angelic energies know their work with you is done for now.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Travis McHenry is widely known as being one of the foremost occultists of the modern era. He has written books on the history of the tarot and a memoir about his 10-year research into paranormal phenomena. A native of rural Pennsylvania, Travis grew up surrounded by the folklore of the Appalachian Mountains, which shaped his desire to uncover and share the historical truths hidden behind mythological stories.

He began studying the dark arts in the late 1990s, when he stumbled upon a secretive coven of witches who subsequently befriended him and allowed him to publish the first written history of their magical tradition. Travis has been a student of many religions including Buddhism, Jainism, Hinduism and the Greek Pantheon, and was even an ordained deacon in the Baptist Church. This diverse spiritual background has given him a unique insight into harnessing the divine energies found in cultural groups around the world. His formal education in anthropology helps balance his spiritual training with a scientific mindset.

From 2001 to 2008 Travis served as an intelligence specialist in the United States navy, where he used his powers of analysis and research to track terrorist groups and determine the military capabilities of foreign countries. After leaving the military, Travis entered the corporate world as a recruiter for the largest telephone psychic company in the world. As the most successful psychic recruiter in the industry, he pioneered a concrete process for discovering and authenticating individuals with intuitive powers that is still used to this day.

Travis resides in Los Angeles, California.
